

Where did you read for pleasure this Summer?

We would love you to show off the wild and wonderful places you have done some reading this Summer!

When we return to school in September, we will have a display in the school library where we can all show off the places we enjoy reading for pleasure. At home? In the garden? On the train or bus? By the seaside? Wherever you like to read, we want to share it and create a display of ideas to inspire others to read for pleasure!

Please email your pictures to sowen@stbernards.cheshire.sch.uk

We will also be sharing our pictures on Instagram. If you would prefer us not to share online, please mention this in your email.
