

St Bernard's is now a lead school for a national initiative called Creativity Collaboratives. We are the only one in the North West!

We have been chosen as we give our children lots of creative opportunities and experiences. Miss Reid is leading the project and is looking for some parents to join a creativity team alongside our Creativity Champions Miss Finnerty and Ms Foy. We would love you to come along and find out more about what we are doing and help us to find new ways to develop our children's creativity.

We will meet once every half term during school hours.

If you would like to come and find out more, then please join us on Monday 21st March from 9.15-9.45am at school.
